

eWallet

Computop provides more than 150 payment methods including QIWI. The QIWI wallet can be topped up by customers using a credit or debit card or with cash at payment terminals. It is available to customers in Russia, Kazakhstan and Ukraine. To pay using the QIWI wallet, your customers log in to their QIWI account by entering their telephone number and password, and confirm the payment. After the transaction has been confirmed and the money sent, you receive confirmation of payment. When making payments via QIWI, you benefit from a payment guarantee, meaning you can be absolutely certain that you will receive your money. There is no risk of non-payment or chargebacks.
